

I've been an Amateur Radio operator for many years, presently KB1LI, formerly WA1GIW, and I'd like to comment that CW, or Morse Code, is an antiquated form of communication and I believe that the requirement for demonstrating Morse Code for an Amateur Radio Exam should be dropped to encourage more participation in ham radio.